

Postal Bill Passage Seen This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher postal rates for the public and pay boosts for federal workers are included in a bill that appears ticketed for congressional passage next week.

The catch-all measure also would bar federal employees, including Congress members, from putting relatives on their office payrolls.

The Senate and House agreed in conference committee Thursday night on details of the bill that would:

—Hike the cost of mailing first-class letters from 5 to 6 cents; first-class cards from 4 to 5 cents; airmail letters from 8 to 10 cents; and airmail cards from 6 to 8 cents. The minimum rate for bulk third-class mail would be hiked from 2.87 cents to 4 cents.

—Give federal employees a pay raise totaling $2.7 billion annually when fully effective in two years.

—Set up a commission to recommend new pay levels for congressmen, federal judges and top government officials, which could be effective in 1970.

—Provide that a former Texas congressman and longtime friend of President Johnson—Judge Paul Kilday of the U.S. Military Court of Appeals—be eligible for a pension of $26,400, based on his top salary as a congressman, instead of the $18,000 he ordinarily would get on the basis of his judge's salary.

Sponsors of this proposal conceded that while it would apply to anyone in Kilday's circumstances, it was written with him in mind.

—Bar federal officials from naming a relative to a job within their offices or agencies and also bar them from seeking jobs for relatives in other government offices. This wouldn't apply to relatives now working in congressional offices.

Prison Play Is Now Off

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dugald MacArthur, the director of drama for the Arkansas Arts Center, said he was exploring various possibilities in an attempt to produce the controversial play "Of Prisons and Men," in a manner which would be approved by the Arts Center's board.

MacArthur also said he would abide by the board's decision not to allow him to direct a private production of the play. The Arts Center board voted earlier this week to postpone production of the play until Jim Bruton, former head of Tucker Prison Farm, and one of his wardens, have been tried on charges of excessive punishment to inmates.

The play depicts brutality in the Arkansas prison system.

were intended. Early in November, he continued, the answers came back that two men were involved, that their names might be given later, that their passports would be North Vietnamese, that they wanted to stay in New York one year and possibly two, and that, while they were asking for no U.N. status, they desired "to work principally at the United Nations" but would not refuse radio, TV and press interviews.

There was no answer to the query whether they would talk with the United States, Goldberg said.

"Very promptly thereafter, early in November," Goldberg continued, "I communicated the response from my government in which I said that we would grant visas in connection with any U.N. business as required by . . . the headquarters agreements. We have heard nothing since."

The headquarters agreement between the United States and the United Nations obliges the United States to admit U.N. delegates and "other persons invited to the headquarters district by the United Nations."

Goldberg said the United States would grant the NLF men visas if they were invited here by the Security Council or the General Assembly.

"The key points," he added, are that there have been no such invitations from the council, the assembly or the secretary-general, and Thant does not intend to issue any.

statement attributed to him in Paragould was taken out of context. He was quoted as saying he did not think former Gov. Orval Faubus could be beaten if he sought the gubernatorial nomination next year. He said he was talking about the qualities a man would need to win the nomination.

Cockrill criticized the state Penitentiary Board for not naming Thomas Merton as superintendent of the prison system. Cockrill said that since Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller would be charged with the responsibility of what goes in the prisons in the future he should have been given the Merton appointment. Cockrill said he did not consider Faubus or Jim Johnson, the 1966 gubernatorial nominee, as the head of the Democratic party in Arkansas, he said Leon Catlett, head of the party's Central Committee, was probably the official head.

Cockrill said he did not approve of the proposal to sell 50 membership cards to party members because he said there were too many unanswered questions concerning the memberships.

ALC Probing the Prison Situation

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Orvel M. Johnson, chief auditor for the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee, says six of his staff members have been investigating state prison system finances for the past eight or nine weeks, the Pine Bluff Commercial reported Wednesday.

The newspaper described the investigation as "unusual and intensive" and said Johnson had admitted it was out of the ordinary.

In a story from Little Rock, it said that when Johnson was asked why he had ordered the special audit, he had replied that, "The committee looks to (the staff) to go to the extent that we feel necessary under our responsibility and jurisdiction."

"Whenever you folks (the news media) expose something that indicates there might be something wrong, then we go as far as our jurisdiction lets us go."

The Commercial said Johnson referred specifically to recent news reports about overordering and improper circulation of drugs at Cummins Prison Farm.

It quoted him as saying that the investigation was not a "search audit," and that he didn't know what the term meant.

"I think what the critics (of the prison system) want to know is what happened to everything they (prison officials) but... where does it go," Johnson was quoted as saying. "That's where you get lost."

The Commercial said Johnson told his reporter his men weren't trying to trace the disposition of every item acquired by the prisons, because the committee's function was only to audit the books thoroughly.

The state Penitentiary Study Commission voted Nov. 21 against requesting a "search audit" of prison finances for the past two years.

Agree War in Vietnam Must Be Supported

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Most Republican governors agree the GOP must support the basic Vietnam war commitment in the 1968 election campaign while offering a fresh White House team dedicated to ending the fighting.

Opinions gathered by The Associated Press from GOP state executives who begin campaign planning sessions here Friday focused on the theme that President Johnson has become so locked in his position that only a new president can negotiate peace.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will report at the conference on an in-depth study of potential campaign issues, including Vietnam. The governors, most of them moderates, hope it will form the basis of recommendations for specific platform plans.

Although they seemed in general agreement on issues, all but a few governors were refraining from committing themselves to any potential presidential nominee until next year's primaries show significant trends.

Of the 20 governors willing to participate in the AP canvass, 13 said they have no choice now for the nominee. Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, retiring chairman of the Republican Governors Association, seemed to sum up this group's views in saying: "I want a winner. I want to elect a Republican president."

Michigan Gov. George Romney's announced candidacy for the nomination appeared to have little impact on his colleagues.

Romney drew the support of only Govs. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, incoming chairman of the association, and New York's Rockefeller. Both of them previously had put themselves in his corner.

Rockefeller, who has said he is not a candidate and doesn't want to be president, had the open support of Govs. Tom McCall of Oregon, Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland and his brother, Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas. Another governor who asked that his name not be used favored Rockefeller or Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

Five governors said they think Rockefeller would rate the best chance to beat Johnson in the general election. One picked former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and one Romney. The rest said any of the leading candidates for the nomination could do the job.

Patient With New Heart Doing Fine

By DAVID J. PAINE
Associated Press Writer

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Five days after his historic heart transplant operation, Louis Washkansky has only one major complaint, his surgeon said today—the doctors won't let him get out of bed.

"He says he is aching from lying too still," said Dr. Christian Barnard. "He is keen to get out of bed. He is allowed to sit up but that is all so far."

Mrs. Washkansky visited her husband Thursday for the first time since the operation and found him strong, cheerful and "just too beautiful."

"I'm feeling fine," Washkansky told his fellow South Africans in a nationwide broadcast from his bedside.

Barnard said Washkansky is, in fact, somewhat tired.

"I think the nursing has been a bit too intensive for him," the surgeon said. "Every two hours in the last five days he has been waked up to carry out checks. Today we are going to let him rest."

The 55-year-old wholesale grocer's physician, encouraged by his excellent progress, allowed his wife to enter sterilized room 274 at Groote Schuur Hospital for a four-minute chat after one of the surgeons interviewed Washkansky for the South African national radio network.

"He is so much better than I expected," Mrs. Washkansky said. "He is so cheerful and bright. I was astonished by his strength."

Wearing a surgical gown and mask, she entered her husband's room with instructions not to kiss him. He reached out for her arm, she said, and told her: "Darling, I am so happy to see you."

"How are you feeling now, Mr. Washkansky?" Dr. Bertie Bosman asked in the radio interview.

"I'm feeling fine," the patient replied.

Q. You feeling well? A. Quite well.

Q. What would you like to eat tonight? A. Something light. Not starting with heavy things.

Q. How do you feel about being a famous man now? A. Told you, I'm not famous. It's the doctor that's famous, the man with the golden hands.

Washkansky's "man with the golden hands" is Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the team of surgeons who on Sunday replaced Washkansky's badly floundering heart with the heart of a 25-year-old woman killed in an auto accident a few hours before. It was medical history's first recorded human heart transplant.

Although Washkansky has shown continuous improvement since the operation, he is now in the critical period during which the body's natural tendency to reject foreign objects may reject the transplanted heart. But on Barnard predicted this would not happen.

Washkansky is receiving co-balt treatments and drugs to lessen the chances of rejection of the heart. Late Thursday, a hospital spokesman reported Washkansky "is still improving all the time and his condition is quite satisfactory."

"He should be home for Christmas," said one surgeon.

Another heart transplant may be performed by the same surgical team in six weeks, Dr. Barnard said.

The prospective patient is a middle-aged man who has been suffering from severe heart disease for the past six months. The time of the operation depends largely on when a healthy young heart can be obtained, Barnard said.

1968 GOP convention, said the Republicans should emphasize that "the present administration do the job."

Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington, expected to be named keynote speaker of the 1968 GOP convention, said the Republicans should emphasize that "the present administration has used up many of its alternatives and that a new administration could re-open all alternatives."

"As with Korea, I believe that ultimate negotiation and armistice comes with a position of military strength," Evans said. "When this was achieved in Korea, a new administration succeeded in reaching an armistice, such a result could occur now but I think it would be much more likely with a new president and a new administration."

New York's Rockefeller, who has supported Johnson's basic Vietnam course, declined to comment on this issue.

steadily rising cost of this assistance.

—Write tight new restrictions and work requirements into the welfare program of Aid to Families with Dependent Children in an effort to get the recipients off relief and into jobs.

The final version of the legislation is far closer to the bill passed by the House than to Johnson's recommendations or the Senate version.

Many of its welfare provisions reflect increasing congressional concern over soaring costs of relief programs.

The bill would boost Social Security benefits $3.6 billion in 1969, the first full year of operation, compared with $7.1 billion under the Senate measure and $3.4 billion under the House version.

Taxes would be increased in 1969 by $1.5 billion over what present law would yield. But there still would be a $4.7 billion revenue-to-outgo surplus that year.

Johnson asked for a 15 percent general increase in benefits and a $70 minimum. The Senate accepted this.

But the final increases included in the bill were much closer to the 12 percent hike and $50 minimum voted by the House.

The conference swept aside or scaled down dozens of liberalizing amendments put into the bill in the Senate. Among them were:

—Permission for men and women to retire at age 60 with actuarially reduced benefits. Now they must wait to age 62, except for widows who can get payments at 60.

—Allowance for retired prisoners to earn up to $2,400 a year without losing any benefits. The present limit is $1,500. The conference adopted the proposed House figure of $1,680.

—Disabled children's benefits up to age 22. Present law, which is retained, cuts these off at age 18.

Mild Weather Through Sat.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas will enjoy mild weather throughout Saturday before it turns cooler Sunday afternoon when a developing storm center in the Central Rockies begins to exert its influence over the state.

Showers are expected to spread into the Delta Saturday morning, continuing intermittently through Sunday morning before ending Sunday afternoon.

Skies will begin clearing from the west Sunday and temperatures will be a little cooler.

High temperatures Thursday ranged from 54 at Harrison to 71 at El Dorado. Overnight lows ranged from 22 at Gilbert to 41 at Texarkana and El Dorado.

There was no rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

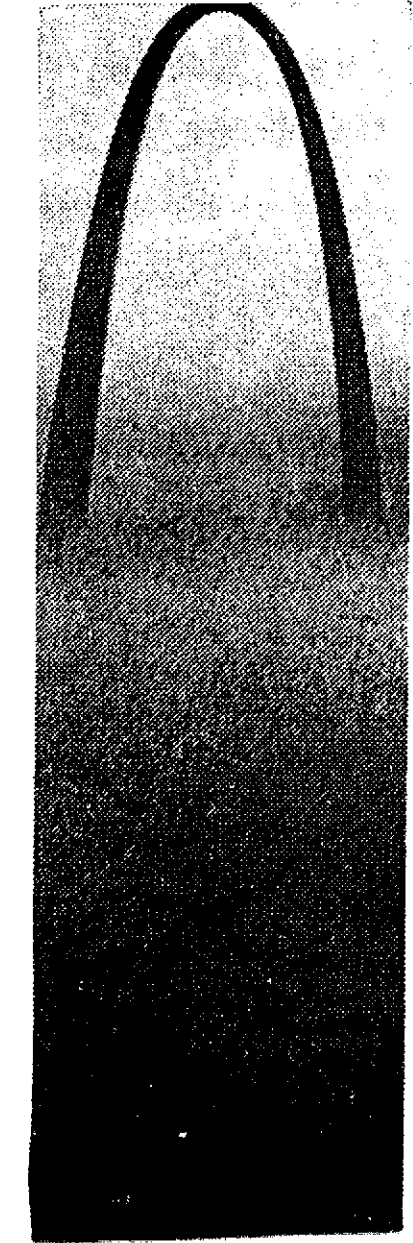

Man Killed in 2-Car Wreck

PARIS, Ark. (AP) — William L. Asbury, 36, of Booneville was killed Thursday night in a two-vehicle collision three miles south of Cankville (Logan County) on Arkansas 23.

State Police said Asbury apparently lost control of his pickup truck, ran off the highway and then swung back onto the highway and collided with a tractor-trailer truck.

The driver of the trailer truck was L. G. Frizzell, 50, of Heavener, Okla., who was not killed or injured.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The death of Walt Disney a year ago brought shock to the world and caused concern for the future of his entertainment empire.

Today the Disney enterprises continue to function and grow within guidelines Walt laid down. His brother Roy, 74, remains as titular head of the empire, but much of the decision-making is accomplished by an executive committee consisting of those who worked closely with Walt in planning film entertainment, the Disneyland park, the coming Disney World in Florida, etc.

Most committee members are 30-year veterans of the Disney operation. Two represent a new generation: Ron Miller, 31, son-in-law of Walt, and Roy E. Disney, 36, son of Roy. Miller is a Disney director, and younger Roy has been nominated for a position on the board in February.

Ron Miller is oddly cast for the role of movie producer. He looks like a professional football player, which he was. He is a handsome 6 feet 5 with a muscular frame that varies between 230 pounds, where he would like to keep it, and 265, where it has been lately. He is a Los Angeles boy, his football prowess in high school having won him a football scholarship at University of Southern California.

His performance at end for that school and the Ft. Ord team during Army service brought offers to play pro ball for the Los Angeles Rams. By then he was married to Diane Disney, Walt's oldest daughter. "I played for a year, and then Walt offered me a job," says Miller. "He thought it would be better for the family if I stopped traveling and stayed home for a change. He was able to get me into the Directors Guild, and I started in 1955 as an assistant director on 'Old Yeller'."

Miller continued as assistant director on the "Walt Disney Presents" television hours and the "Zorro" series, then became associate producer with his father-in-law on such films as "Bon Voyage," "Tiger Walk" and "Summer Magic." In 1960 he acted as pageant director for the Olympic games at Squaw Valley, an assignment he especially enjoyed—he and Diane are avid skiers. They now have six children.

Roy E. Disney has been hanging around the studio since he was a toddler, but oddly enough, he didn't intend to work there.

"I was going to be an aeronautical engineer," he says. "But when I nearly flunked calculus in college, I realized that wasn't for me. I switched to an English major."

Roy had worked in the studio publicity department during summer vacations, but he entered full-time entertainment "through the back door" in 1952.

Jack Webb was then filming his "Dragnet" series on the Disney lot, and Roy got a job on the series as apprentice film editor. The assignment led to a position as assistant film editor, for Disney and he worked on the nature films "Living Desert" and "The Vanishing Prairie."

He spent a year and a half in the wilds of the Rocky Mountains filming scenes for "Peril," later went to Europe where he wrote a book about the film. After more work as assistant to Winston Hibler, producer of the nature films, Roy made a decision.

"I went into Walt's office and told him I ought to be making a film of my own," he recalls. "So he gave me the chance, and I found out how hard producing a picture can be."

His first was "The Otter and the Family," which he wrote and produced. Now he is making shows for the Sunday night television series. Roy is slight and plain-spoken, like his father and uncle. He is married and has four children.

As was true of Walt, both Miller and young Roy enjoy their work—"I figure I'm in the most exciting business in the world," says Roy; "I'm happier'n hell," says Roy.

Your house or theirs? Whichever, wear something fabulous. For memorable holidays at home or at large, seek out the fascinating, unusual fare. Make a night of nights in a glittering caftan or play the pajama game in drifting silk, jersey or velvet.

Accessories Aid Image

A woman's appearance depends on her accessories as much as her clothes. Just as the right stockings, shoes and handbag are essential, in-the-bag accessories, such as a fine compact, lipstick case and combs, are also an important part of her image.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

UTOPIA OR BOREDOM?

Dear Helen: Since I retired, I have done next to nothing for the past two solid months, solid because of the difficulty in getting through them. I can say here and now that taking it easy can be the hardest thing you ever tried to take. After a few weeks of "Utopia" with no problems or pressures, you start coming loose at the seams. You awake realizing you're not going anywhere, you're already there — your day is done before it starts.

You eat a bite of breakfast, lower yourself into the easy chair, but you're already rested, and rest becomes unbearable. So you decide to go down town, but everybody is inside, working. Then you head back to the arm chair and television.

The longer boredom runs, the faster you deteriorate. Your body becomes sluggish, your mind stagnates. You lose the will or energy to do anything and you can no longer endure doing nothing. You begin eating for a pastime, and you start to bulge.

With no problems on your mind, the mind itself becomes the major problem. You re-evaluate your concept of work, and it finally dawns on you that those aspects of life commonly known as "negatives" are necessary, for without them there is no appreciation of the positive.

I've just about decided that having a headache is better than having nothing. At least you'd be happy when it stopped. Perhaps it's the same with a job you dislike.

May the good Lord have mercy on those who anticipate the joys of retirement. In the words of Tennyson: "How dull it is to pause, to make an end, to rust unburnished, not to shine in use."

— BACHELOR
Dear Helen: You've got a classic case of retirement-reaction, aggravated by lack of wife (who usually keeps a newly retired man so busy he hasn't time for regrets).

I'm going to let my readers answer your letter. They'll give you a shot in the arm, a kick in the pants and probably several hundred formulas for pulling out of your temporary slump. I'll print the best and send the rest on to you. — H

Dear Helen: I'm the kind of person who acts first and thinks later. So when I saw the neighbor boy throwing rocks at our cat, I ran out and gave him a hard swat. I know I should have just talked to him, as he is really a good kid and my son and he play together quite well. His mother and I have been the best of friendly neighbors, but now I'm afraid that is all changed. She probably hates me for spanking her son. I'm scared to face her for fear she will snub me.

It seems like the two boys haven't played together so much lately. Maybe she is keeping her boy away from mine.

REpentant Neighbor

Dear Neighbor: Amends for what? The boy was throwing rocks at your cat; you gave him a swat — a fair exchange, and I'm sure your friendly neighbor agrees. In fact, she may be avoiding YOU because she fears you won't accept HER apology.

It's even quite possible her son hasn't told her of the incident. Invite her in for coffee — and, I'll bet you'll soon be laughing over this imagined feud. — H

Johnson to Join Dress Rehearsal

By FRANCES LEWINE

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson joins in the dress rehearsal today as his daughter Lynda and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb go through final preparations for their historic wedding — just one day away.

The White House was being dressed gaily in a Christmas decor of spruce trees, holly, mistletoe and garlands of greens and red and white flowers.

An imposing white altar, flanked by two fluted white columns, carpeted in white and centered with a cross, was under construction in the East Room.

A buffet table 30 feet long was going up in the State Dining Room. And 500 bags of rice were being filled for use by guests in showering the newlyweds as they leave for a honeymoon.

The wedding principals, meanwhile, were taking on a last round of partying, with a rehearsal dinner tonight given by Robb's parents. Stage stars Carol Lawrence and Gordon MacRae shut down their Broadway show tonight to salute the bridal couple with songs from their musical about marriage, "I Do, I Do."

All America Team Picked by the AP

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A dream backdrop came true?
The glass slipper appears to be a perfect fit for the quartet of Gary Beban, O. J. Simpson, Leroy Keyes and Larry Csonka, landside choices on the 1967 All-America college football team announced Thursday by The Associated Press.
Not since 1946, when Army's touchdown twins, Felix "Doc" Blanchard and Glenn Davis, Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack and Georgia's Charley Trippi received virtually unqualified acclaim, have four college backs so completely overshadowed the pack.
Beban, the Heisman Trophy winning UCLA quarterback; Csonka, Syracuse's brute force fullback, and super halfbacks Simpson, of Southern California, and Keyes, of Purdue, simply did it all—and then some—this fall.
Beban passed and ran for 1,586 yards and 19 touchdowns. Simpson, the nation's runaway rushing king, ground out 1,415 yards and Csonka rambled for 1,127 while rewriting the Syracuse record book. Versatile Keyes ran for 986 yards, caught 45 passes for 753 yards and led the NCAA scoring parade with 114 points.
Together, the foursome accounted for 65 touchdowns and just under three miles in total offense yardage while leading their teams to an aggregate season record of 32-7-1.
After watching Simpson for the first time, one pro scout exclaimed:
"We'd take him right now. I'm glad I don't have to coach against him. He'd scare me to death."
That undoubtedly would apply to Beban, Csonka and Keyes as well. But the pros will have to settle for Beban and Csonka this time around. Simpson and Keyes are among five juniors on the 23-man All-America squad.
Two other standouts on Southern Cal's national championship club—offensive tackle Ron Yary and linebacker Adrian Young—landed first team berths. Notre Dame, only other school with more than one representative, placed 270-pound Kevin Hardy and tough little Tom Schoen on the defensive unit.
Alabama's Dennis Homan and Florida State's Ron Sellers are the offensive ends. Tackle Edgar Chandler of Georgia, guards Gary Cassells of Indiana and Rich Stotter of Houston, center Bob Johnson of Tennessee and Jerry DePoyster, Wyoming's record-breaking place kicker, complete the offensive array.
Hardy, who alternated between end and tackle for the Fighting Irish, and towering Ted Hendricks of Miami, Fla., man the flanks on the defensive line. Dennis Byrd of North Carolina State and Gre Pipes of Baylor are the tackles and Nebraska's Wayne Meylan gets the nod at middle guard for the second year in a row.
Although unable to displace the 239-pound Meylan at the middle guard spot, Oklahoma's Granville Liggins was not overlooked by the writers and broadcasters across the nation upon whose recommendations the All-America squad was selected. The 219-pound Sooner star earned a linebacker berth alongside the Trojans' Young and Bill Hobbs of Texas A&M.
With Schoen, Notre Dame's most valuable player, in the defensive secondary are Dick Anderson of Colorado and Frank Loria of Virginia Tech, the only other repeater.
Yary, a 245-pound bruiser who captured the Outland Trophy as

Baltimore Should Stay Unbeaten

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore should run its unbeaten string through 13 games Sunday but the Colts probably will have to beat Los Angeles on the last day of the season, Dec. 17, to wrap up the Coastal Division title.
That's the way it looks from this corner with the Handpicks tabbing the Rams to beat Green Bay in the big Saturday afternoon television extravaganza over CBS.
Cleveland should clinch the Century Division crown Sunday by knocking off St. Louis, thus qualifying for a Dec. 24 date at Dallas for the championship of the Eastern Conference.
After an 8-2-1 week in Mexico, the season totals are 95-38-10 NFL 62-26-8 and AFL 33-12-2. Let's try again. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.
NFL
Los Angeles 20, Green Bay 17 (Saturday) — Packers find themselves in unusual position of underdogs with their division title already clinched and Rams still struggling. Two tough, rugged defensive clubs, Rams' running attack rates edge but it could be a battle of field goals — Don Chandler vs. Bruce Gossett.
Cleveland 28, St. Louis 23 — Browns need win to snuff out Cards. Cleveland won Oct. 15 game 20-16 with help of three interceptions and three field goals by Lou Groza. Probable loss of Bob DeMarco could hurt St. Louis in last home game but Cards are desperate and must win to stay alive.
New York 28, Detroit 21 — Giants still have a shot at third-place money in Eastern Conference and are at home. Lions have nothing to salvage but pride after 3-7-2 season. Mel Farr set to put on show for Yankee Stadium fans. Lions' pass defense makes it tough for Fran Tarkenton.
Chicago 21, Minnesota 17 — Both clubs closing strong after shaky starts. Bears won 17-7 Oct. 1 when Cal Sayers led attack. Sayers coming off hot game at San Francisco wants to close home season with a burst. Chicago defense should shut off Vikings.
Baltimore 31, New Orleans 7 — Colts put on big show for home fans in last game before hitting road for finale. Gary Cuozzo, Steve Stonebreaker, Ted Davis and Jackie Burkett would like to show up old mites but Saints don't have horses to match Colts. Lenny Lyles lost to Dallas 28, Philadelphia 21 — Cowboys just tuning up for Dec. 24 Eastern Conference game with Cleveland-St. Louis survivor. Eagles did upset Dallas 21-14 in Philadelphia Oct. 23 on a fumble and onside kick when Don Meredith was out of line-up. Despite loss of Bob Hayes, Dallas should get even.
San Francisco 24, Atlanta 14 — Two losers with nothing at stake. The 49ers could be showcasing George Mira, who playing out option, San Francisco won first game 38-7 on Sept. 24 but they have lost six straight and Falcons have dropped five in a row.
Washington 35, Philadelphia 24 — Despite Redskins' leaky defense and Steelers' upset win over Lions, Sonny Jurgensen should ruin Pittsburgh's last home game. Washington has won four in a row over Steelers since 1964 and comes off wild 35-35 tie with Eagles. Redskins won exhibition game 16-10 in September in Norfolk, Va.
AFL
Boston 20, Buffalo 14 — Patriots always beat Bills even when Buffalo is having good year. Boston rolled to 23-6 since Sept. 24 when Jim Nance carried 34 points for 185 yards and defense picked off five Buffalo passes.
Kansas City 28, New York 24 — Chiefs have nothing to gain and Jets are locked in desperate tie with Houston. But the Chiefs rolled up 24-18 score Nov. 5 at home when Mike Garrett ran for 192 yards and Joe Namath was intercepted three times. Unless Chiefs are walking through the rest of schedule they should do it again, despite fact this last Jets' home game.
Oakland 30, Houston 17 — Raiders smell that Super Bowl dough and won't let tough Oilers' defense stop them. It should be a great battle between Oakland's pass rush and Houston's blockers. Raiders have snared quarterback 61 times. Oilers' passer has been hit only 17 times.
San Diego 21, Miami 17 — Tougher than it looks at home. Jets who will be without Lance Alworth and possibly Frank Bunt.

Fairmont After Small College Title

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., AP — Unbeaten Fairmont, W. Va., State goes after the small college football title Saturday when the Falcons face unbeaten and potent-passing Eastern Washington State Savages.
The game — at 1 p.m., EST, at West Virginia University's Mountaineer Field pits the survivors of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) playoffs. The Falcons won their way into the finals on the strength of their 10 regular season victories and a 21-7 triumph over Northern Michigan.
The Savages survived their 10-game regular season without a blemish and whipped New Mexico Highlands 28-14 in the semifinal playoff.

Mel Walker Will Play No More Football

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Mel Walker will play no more football.
His collegiate grid career, ripe with promise, ended Wednesday night. Doctors at Hennepin County General Hospital amputated his left leg just below the knee—the consummate blow of a cruel injury.
He'll have to spend next autumn learning anew how to walk. Instead of learning University of Wisconsin football plays, he'll have to cheer from the sideline instead of hearing the cheers.
Melvin A. Walker was recruited by Wisconsin as a quarterback.
As a sophomore this past season, Walker didn't get to play quarterback because the Badgers had a senior and a junior ahead of him.
Such was Walker's all-around talent, however, that he moved to defensive safety and became a regular. Going into the season finale against Minnesota here Nov. 25, Mel was Wisconsin's leader in pass interceptions with five for 81 yards and one touchdown and passer for kicking with seven.
He also had been credited with four touchdown-saving tackles, was tied for the team lead with two fumble recoveries and had made 31 unassisted tackles and got credit for 15 more assists.
On the sixth play in Minnesota's 21-13 victory over Wisconsin, Mel went high into the air to help break up a Minnesota pass into the Badger end zone. In midair, he collided with a teammate, then fell hard to the turf.
His left knee had taken a blow to the inside, and the outside of the knee was grievously damaged.
The main leg nerve was damaged, there were torn ligaments

Nevele Pride Harness Horse of the Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio, AP — Nevele Pride has been voted Harness Horse of the Year in the annual nationwide balloting conducted by the U.S. Trotting Association.
Nevele Pride, the first 2-year-old to ever win honor, was the choice of 198 of the 150 members of the U.S. Trotting Writers' Association who participated in the balloting.
Nevele Pride, a 2-year-old, was owned by the late, Mr. Nevele, and was trained by Nevele's son, Nevele Jr., who will receive the national award for the year's best harness driver.

Tart Doing Fine But the Oaks Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tart, lost to Oakland of the American Basketball Association, and a home legal maneuvering that resulted in an injunction that is now being appealed, scored 23 points for the Oaks, but they lost to Pittsburgh 114-113. The Oaks are now 9-15.
The Oakland Oaks are one of the Eastern Basketball League obtained the injunction, but a Pennsylvania Supreme Court Judge ruled the high-scoring Tart could play until the appeal

Blevins Sr. Boys Defeat Bright Star

The Blevins Sr. boys defeated Bright Star by a score of 57-48 in a first round basketball game Wednesday night in the Foulke Invitational Senior Tournament. James Roberts led Blevins with 17 points, Ricky Paul and Billy Smith had 13 points each for Blevins. James Wall scored 24 points for Bright Star. The Blevins boys will play in the quarter-finals Thursday night.
The Blevins Sr. girls, who are also participating in the tournament will play their first game Friday night with Bright Star.

Last of Ukes Packing in Boston Fans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The last of the Ukes is packing fans into Boston Garden and pouring goals in for the amazing Bruins.
Johnny Bucyk, the rugged left winger who played alongside Bronco Horvath and Vic Stasiuk on Boston's high-powered Uke line in the late 1950's, fired two goals in Thursday night's 3-1 National Hockey League victory over New York and became the highest scorer in Bruins' history.
A crowd of 13,903, 13th sellout in 15 Bruin home games, saw the surprise East Division leaders extend their unbeaten streak to seven games and move three points ahead of the Toronto by beating the Rangers for the fourth time in four meetings.
In Thursday night's only other NHL action, Montreal and Detroit played to a 2-2 deadlock.
Bucyk's 17th and 18th goals of the season matched his 1966-67 total and sent him one point ahead of Milt Schmidt, the Bruins' current general manager, on the club's all-time scoring list.
Bucyk has registered 576 points—on 231 goals and 342 assists—since Detroit traded him to the Bruins 10 years ago. Schmidt, center on the Bruins' legendary Kraut line, set the old record in 16 NHL seasons.
The third place Red Wings ran their unbeaten streak to five games on 11:01 Smith's tying power play tally late in the second period. Alex Delvecchio gave the Wings a 1-0 first period jump, but the Canadiens struck twice within 72 seconds in the second to win before Smith scored the equalizer.
Bookie Mickey Rodman was noted for Montreal at 1:01 of the second period and Jean Beliveau, back in the line-up after missing five weeks with injuries, scored at 5:13, giving the Canadiens their short-lived lead.

28 Hockey Players Are Fined

MONTREAL, AP — National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell has hit 28 players with fines totaling $1,675 in the aftermath of a brawl-marred game between the Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens last Sunday night.
Fines of $150 apiece were meted out to defenseman Don Awrey of the Bruins and Terry Harper of the Canadiens for their parts in the first-period slugfest. Forward Dick Duff of Montreal was fined $100 and defenseman Jacques Laperriere of the Canadiens, involved in a later incident, drew a $75 fine.
Laperriere was one of 12 Canadiens fined $50 each for leaving the bench to participate in the fight. He was fined an additional $100 for leading the Montreal bench brawls. Eleven Boston players also were assessed $50 apiece for coming off the bench.
Goalie Ed Johnston of the Bruins and defenseman Vachon of the Canadiens drew $50 fines for leaving their respective goal creases when the fight broke out.

Bruins Going for 36th Win in Row

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
UCLA's Bruins, the national collegiate basketball champions, go after their 36th straight victory tonight in their home opener against Wichita State.
Ordinarily the Bruins, led by towering 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor, would be regarded as a shoo-in over the Wheatshockers, but after their hair-breath escape from defeat last week at the hands of Purdue, many fans are waiting to see what happens to the Bruins' streak.
UCLA beat Purdue 73-71 at Lafayette, Ind., last Saturday on a 30-foot shot by Bill Sweek at the final buzzer.
Houston, second ranked in UCLA in The Associated Press poll, was the only team in the Top Ten to play Thursday night and the Cougars enjoyed a home court 121-88 romp over North Dakota State.
All-America Elvin Hayes, the Big E, scored 38 points for Houston and became the all-time major college scoring leader in Texas with 1,776 points. Ron Schleferman tossed in 50 points for the losers.
Bradley walloped Memphis State 80-52 at Peoria behind Joe Allen's 24 points while Arizona State pulled out an 87-81 road victory over Creighton at Omaha. Roger Dettler led the winning Sun Devils with 25 points. Bob Portman threw in the same number for Creighton.
NYU whipped Texas 75-67 and Manhattan downed Rhode Island 68-65 in the first double-header of the season at New York's Madison Square Garden.
St. Louis routed Hardin Simmons 107-80 while in other home court triumphs Georgia Tech beat Georgia 86-78, Samford downed Mississippi State 66-63, Arizona took Northern Arizona 82-74 and Texas A&M defeated West Texas 83-83.
On the road, Holy Cross edged Dartmouth 73-70, Wofford beat The Citadel 68-69, Virginia downed VMI 84-79 and Florida took Florida State 97-87.

Beban Won't Complain If He's Drafted

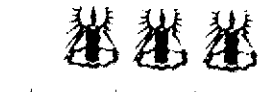

NEW YORK, AP — "You can't take from this country without giving back. It's too tremendous a country not to give back something."
Gary Beban, UCLA's brilliant quarterback, was reflecting on his future—either as a professional athlete or a military draftee—while in New York Thursday to receive the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding college football player.
The 21-year-old Californian wants to continue his football career as a pro and coaches in both the National and American football leagues can't wait for a chance to land him.
Beban, however, may have to postpone his pro plans and put in a military hitch after he is graduated from UCLA next spring. If the call comes, he'll be ready.
"Right now, I have a student deferment and I'm in a waiting list to get into a reserve unit, but my status is the same as any young man in the country," he said.
"The only unfortunate thing about the draft is it leaves you no question. If I'm drafted, though, I won't complain."

Doesn't See McCarthy as a Winner
By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — At this point it looks like a kind of romantic adventure.
Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota hasn't declared himself a candidate for the presidency. Publicly he hasn't said he's out to dump President Johnson. But he is going to run in several presidential primaries.
It's hard to believe that Mc-Carthy, a Johnson critic on Vietnam and other things, thinks he has a chance. If he does, for the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention next August.
He is not a national figure. He has been in Congress 18 years, 8 of them in the Senate, and his career there has not been particularly distinguished. Newsweek magazine said most of the senators consider him somewhat lazy.
And this week the Louis Harris poll among Democrats pictured him as a 4-1 underdog in any nationwide primary election contest with Johnson. What then is his purpose in getting involved in the presidential picture?
In announcing Nov. 30 he would enter the primaries, he indicated he would be satisfied if his campaign, built around Vietnam, persuaded the Johnson administration to move toward a negotiated settlement in the next five or six months.
If that doesn't happen, he said, "I think this challenge would have to go all the way to a challenge for the nomination for the presidency. It may not be me at that point. It might be someone else."
It has been suggested—but this is highly questionable—that McCarthy is acting as a stalking horse for another Democrat,
Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, in the sense that Mc-Carthy will take the public pulse and Kennedy can move in against Johnson if it seems good.

In his announcement Mc-Carthy never mentioned Johnson by name but he blasted him this week at breakfast with reporters, saying Johnson was not as "good as president as he could have been" and accusing Johnson of "using and eroding" government institutions and people.
Now that McCarthy has started down that road, he'll probably keep on. Discontent over Vietnam will be the basis of his campaign but he has said he will expand it to include other issues.
McCarthy, who taught at St.
Thomas College in Minnesota, has been called an intellectual,
a word which is losing its meaning. In recent years it has been applied so loosely to college teachers it's beginning to seem that anyone who can read a book is intellectual.
He's a witty man, gray-haired, 51, and is emerging on the national scene when the discontent over the war is widespread but scattered, taking many forms under many different leaderships.
McCarthy may hope to make himself a rallying symbol for the discontented, a single focus point, and through this become a force that will compel Johnson to soften up on Vietnam or be ruined politically if he doesn't.
There was a time, back in 1964, when McCarthy apparently saw eye to eye with Johnson although that was before the war got overheated. It was at that time that McCarthy was one of the 88 Senators who approved beforehand any action
Johnson might take to repel Communist aggression in Southeast Asia. Many of those senators, including McCarthy, are now unhappy with what they did.

The "Uptights" To Perform in Hope Coliseum

They Will Perform at Cable TV Grand Opening Here

LBJ Backing School Bill Sponsors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate sponsors of the $14.2 billion aid to education bill have apparently overcome Southern objections to federal school desegregation enforcement procedures.

The new peace-making effort, designed to avoid long debate as Congress heads toward final adjournment, contrasted with bitter words exchanged during Wednesday's session.

At one point, the usually mild-mannered Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told one senator he was "off his rocker."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., manager of the bill, said an amendment will be offered to provide some assurances sought by Dixie senators.

Morse said the proposal will involve a fixed date, perhaps Aug. 1, by which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare must announce annually whether a school district will receive federal aid. If a cutoff or denial notice were not issued by then, the district would receive the money throughout the school year starting in September.

HEW uses this financial weapon to push for desegregation.

This amendment would substitute for one sponsored by SEN. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and strongly supported by other Southerners who had made clear its adoption was their price for not blocking passage of the full bill this year.

Russell's proposal would bar HEW from holding up or denying aid and application to any district once the school year has started.

Morse said Russell's plan this would mean a district could drag its feet until the school year had begun and then do anything it pleased about integration for a year.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., fighting for Russell's amendment, angrily declared orders had come from the White House and HEW to kill all weakening civil rights amendments.

Mansfield and Morse denied this.

But Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he could believe Stennis' charge. He said an amendment he had sponsored, which would have cut the total authorization in the bill by $2.4 billion, was "blitzed" by orders when it came down from the mountain top.

Mansfield shot back: "The order from this is off his rocker. No senator in this body is going to take orders from any mystical mountain top."

And Morse chimed in with a snicker: "You weren't blitzed. You were outvoted." Lausche's amendment was rejected 54 to 27.

Stennis complained many Southern school districts have been unable to get from HEW specific information on what they must do to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act. He said some districts in Mississippi have just received notices cutting off their funds effective Saturday more than three months after the school year began.

Lausche said that the order from this is off his rocker. No senator in this body is going to take orders from any mystical mountain top."

Mansfield shot back: "The order from this is off his

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Barry Morse, the actor who relentlessly pursued David Janssen in "The Fugitive" for five years, has gone back to his first love, the theater.

Morse, the long, lean Londoner with an impeccable public school accent, now is directing a play aiming for Broadway. He recently completed the direction of a fantasy, "Mr. Dickens of London" which will be an ABC special next Tuesday night.

Since the dramatic windup of "The Fugitive" in late August, Morse has not visited California and has no plans to return for awhile.

"It must have seemed like more, but I appeared in only about one-third of the shows," he said. "It was an actor's dream—a steady job and I knew well in advance when I was needed. Meanwhile I could be busy with other things—a one-man Dickens show and a summer repertory theatre, to mention two."

The series, he said, was helpful in giving him an identity as an actor on a national basis—"although people still have a tendency to regard me with some initial apprehension."

"And I, on the other hand, have had to be extremely careful both playing the part and talking about it. It would never do to suggest that a law enforcement officer was acting like a neurotic nut all those years."

Few viewers were aware that he was an Englishman using an American accent.

Barry and his actress wife, Sydney Sturgess, maintain apartments in London—which is home base—Los Angeles and Toronto where he worked for years. A son, Hayward, is an actor in England. Their daughter, an actress, is married and lives in Canada.

The Morses have been married for 28 years and find that two active careers in one family work out very well.

"We figured out that we have really been together a total of 10 or 12 years," said Morse. "It would be impossible for us to get bored."

His combined experience as a director and a Dickens buffed to Tuesday night's show, a tour of the city in Dickens's time with Sir Michael Redgrave as Dickens.

"The most difficult thing was to find old, unchanged sections of the city—or at least camera angles—without television antennae sticking up or cars rolling into view."

Recommended weekend viewing:
Tonight—"The Forgotten Peninsula," NBC, 10-11 EST, an inspection of Baja California with naturalist Joseph Wood Krutch commenting.

Sunday—"The Ed Sullivan Show," CBS, 8-9 p.m., 20th anniversary program with some of the first guests returning and ceremonies renaming a CBS theater in his honor, Radio City Christmas Show," NBC, 9-10, taped portions from the 1955 holiday program of the Music Hall theater.

Navy to Let Out 30,000 Enlisted Men

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy, which is tying up 40 ships to free key men for Vietnam war duty, will discharge more than 30,000 enlisted men a month at two early, sources reported.

The move, which reportedly will save about $18 million, apparently is part of a Defense Department drive to cut spending where possible in a bid to avoid a big supplemental money request to Congress.

The new development came to light Thursday, shortly after the Navy acknowledged 6,200 experienced petty officers and other enlisted men, chiefly from Atlantic and Pacific fleet ships, will be used for war duty.

The manpower cut will be made up within a year, it said.

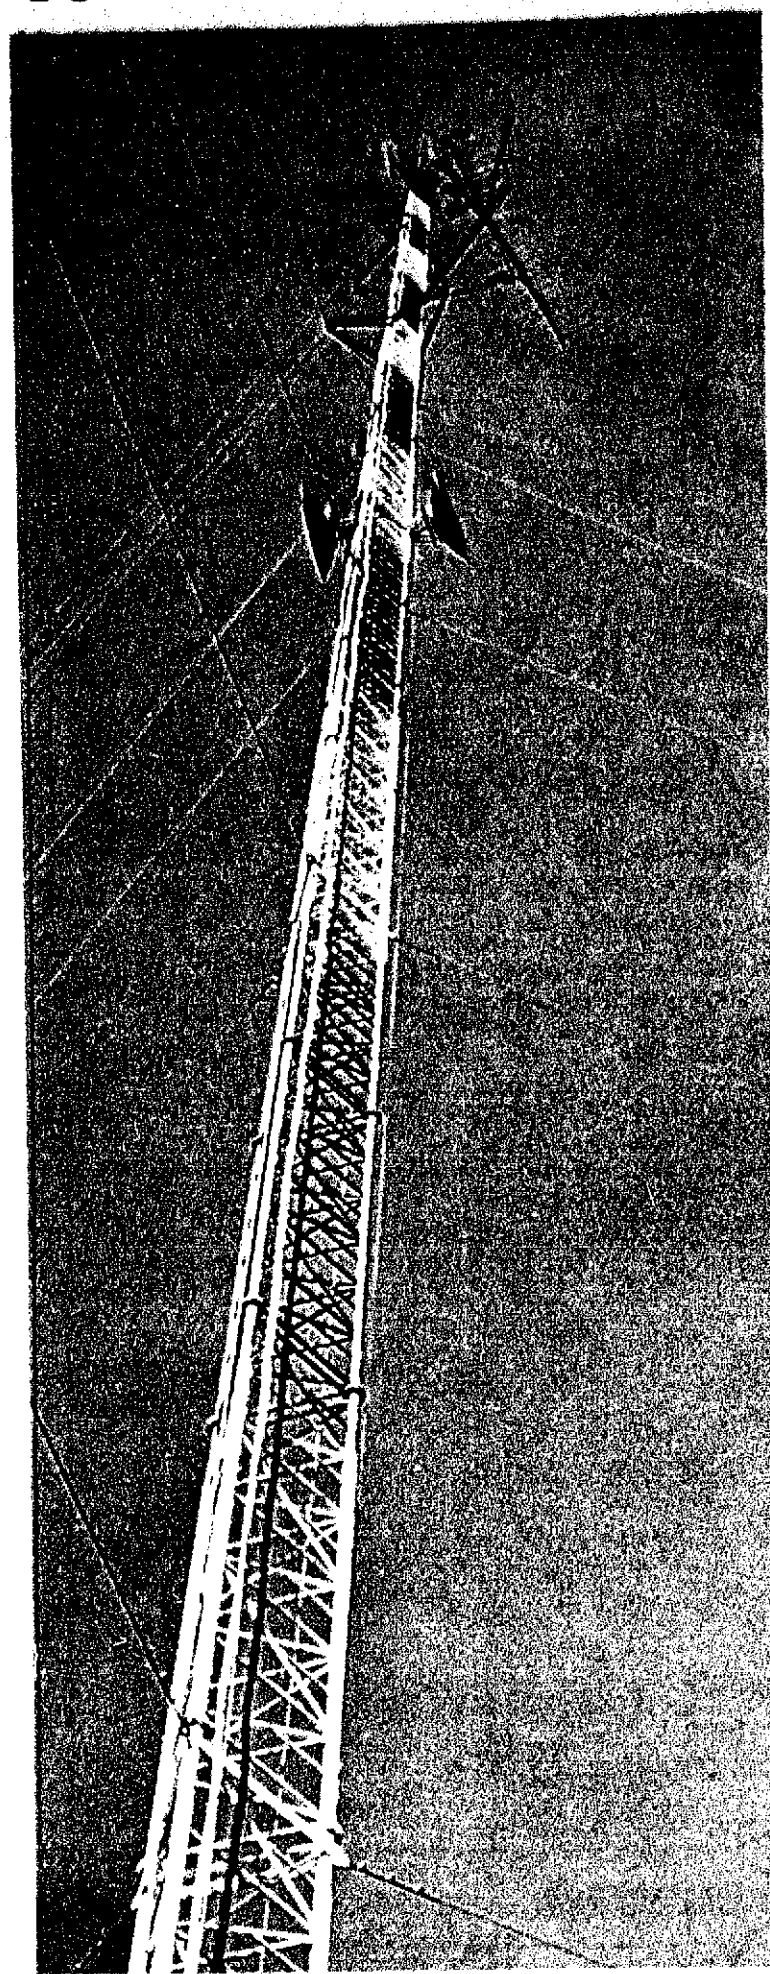

As the Navy explained it, the 3,700 petty officers and 2,500 other enlisted men will be sent to meet additional personnel requirements in Southeast Asia.

New Jersey now being prepared for Vietnam war duty, and to meet the new 40-ship fleet build-up.

As a result, 19 ships will be taken up, placed on the books as "ghost ships" which will maintain the number of ships in the fleet to the level of under 400 ships.

The Navy claimed in an official statement that the ships

Tower For TV Cable

From the top of this 500-foot tower will come the signals to be fed into the new TV cable system which will be put into service on Saturday, December 9 here in Hope. The tower is located just off the experiment station road north of town. Attached to the tower are thirty-four receiving antennas in addition to two micro-wave relay disks.

The signals from this array go first to the "head-end" building where they are filtered, amplified and then fed into the "trunk line" which carries them into town. Once these signals reach town, the trunk line is split into "feeder lines" which carry the signals throughout the city. The signals are re-amplified at specific intervals along the cable so that they are kept at a predetermined level throughout the system.

At each customer's home a "tap-off" is inserted into the cable and a "drop" is made to the home. This is a small cable about the circumference of a lead pencil which runs from the "tap-off" to a small transformer which is attached to the TV set.

According to Kenneth Ponder, Director of Hope Community TV, Inc., "When we open the system, the people of Hope will be able to enjoy TV such as was never before possible in this area. The cable will bring to your TV set seven commercial TV channels plus a 24-hour local time and weather channel, plus three channels of FM music. One of the many features of cable viewing will be the availability of Arkansas programming to residents of the Hope area. For the first time you will be able to realize the full capability of your television set. You will enjoy the thrills and excitement of more television than is available even in the largest metropolitan areas, all for just pennies per day."

Ponder and David Mooney, General Manager of the system, said they want to thank the citizens of Hope for all their help and consideration during the construction of the cable line.

Young Ladies Auctioned Off

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A foreign student exchange program at Portland State College raised money Wednesday by auctioning off 12 of the school's loveliest young women.

The high bidder was wincey with his purchase.

The goods, who wore dark sack over their heads, sat on a bench. The bidders had to judge the quality of the merchandise solely on the basis of looks.

But it seemed that most of the male students were more concerned about next week's final exams than they were about the girls. The highest bid was only $2.

A WEDDING in the White House is in store for Marine Capt. Charles Robb, White House aide who will marry the oldest daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, Lynda Bird. A Marine for the past six years, 28-year-old Robb is scheduled to go to Vietnam in February.

Rooftop Antennas Not Needed

Can you remember when the roof of your house and that of your neighbor's supported only shingles? Or, can you remember when the birds liked to roost on trees rather than antennas?

Well, with Cable TV you can take down your antenna and throw it away. Your house can look like a house again and the birds can go back to the trees to roost!

As a Cable TV subscriber you no longer need to worry about weather damage to your antenna and your home. Home antennas do, in many cases, present a hazard to the homeowner.

Antennas, in order to be continually effective, have to be cleaned and serviced at regular intervals if you are to receive good service.

Once you subscribe to Cable TV you can take down your antenna and let the engineering force of Hope Community TV worry about the maintenance and your TV signal.

All you do as a cable customer, is ENJOY television. This maintenance program conducted by our engineering staff is just one of the benefits you receive at NO EXTRA CHARGE.

Cable Offers a Variety of Choices

Often, even after a local television station goes into operation, cable systems continue to attract new customers.

This is because most community systems now offer subscribers a wide choice of channels. Some have as many as eleven and even supply hi-fi background music on an additional channel.

Community antenna television (CATV) systems provide improved reception on each channel, without ghosts or snow.

In Hope, the system will have

EIGHT TV channels, plus a channel of local Hope weather 24 hours daily, a full band of FM for a home music system, and FM music on Channel 5 from KTAL-FM, Shreveport, La.

To bring television signals in to town and to keep them crystal sharp, today's community antenna systems use special designed powerful receiving antennas, one for each channel aimed precisely at the transmitting station.

When the television signal is fed in the cable for its trip to town, it is boosted by an amplifier, and it is reamplified at about 1800-foot intervals.

Best Color Available on the Cable

Viewing of good color TV depends on the transmitting station, the color set adjustment, and most important, the reception of a strong uniform signal. While it is possible to receive color reception on home antennas, the distance to the station and the antenna height often cause the color to vary. With Cable TV, the color and black and white signals are strengthened at the tower before being routed to the homes. Also, the signals are "boosted" as they travel through out Hope thus assuring customers of a near perfect picture level. Herbert Biddle, chief technician of Hope Community TV, said excellent color reception can be expected from the stations being received by the system. He said all equipment has been carefully adjusted to assure proper level for good color video.

Some Tips for Better TV Viewing

Here are some tips from "VIC VIDEO" to make your television viewing a source of continual enjoyment. View your picture from a reasonable distance. Be sure that the lighting in the room is balanced. Have the inside of your glass screen cleaned every 3 or 4 months (you'll be amazed at the difference). If you have been watching a program, and are going to be doing something else for a few minutes, instead of turning off your set, simply turn down the sound; this is more economical in the long run. Have your repairman inspect your set periodically; some minor adjustments now may save repairs later.

Joint Effort Brought Cable Here

Bringing Cable Television to Hope has been a part of mutual cooperation with the city officials, the municipal power company and local residents, working with Hope Community TV.

Stringing cable and trunk line over the City of Hope and hooking them onto utility poles sounds like an easy job.

It's not exactly that, but you might say that with the cooperation of the Municipal Power and Light Company and the city officials, the job was made a lot simpler than it might have been.

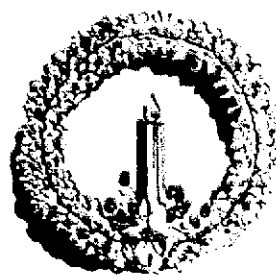

A very important fact not to be overlooked, was the cooperation of the citizens in Hope. In "stringing" a cable system in a city, many national, state and local code requirements must be met. In one sense, you might think of it as everybody staying out of everyone else's way on the poles.

David Mooney, General Manager of Hope Community TV, said that without the assistance of the Municipal Power Company in the city, the system could not have been installed.

"GOOD MORNING WORLD" stars Joby Baker and Julie Parrish, (front) as a disc jockey and his wife, Billy DeWolfe, (rear left) as a radio station manager, Goldie Hawn as a neighbor and Ronnie Schell as Baker's partner in this new comedy series, shown on Tuesday nights at 8:30 p.m. on CBS, Cable Channel 11.

vice charge be paid in advance." "If subscribers decide to disconnect, all they have to do is call and the service will be disconnected. If they have not used the full time credited by their monthly payment, Hope Community TV will refund the money for the days not on the cable."

Same Strong Signal Is Maintained

Many people ask how the cable maintains a good solid picture all over town, since so many miles are covered in the system.

Once our signal leaves the electronic equipment at the antenna complex, the system must reamplify or boost the signal at certain intervals throughout the city. This is done by the small boxes mounted at various points along the cable.

These boxes are transistor line extenders and provide the means of keeping the signal as good as it was when it left the antenna site. Using these line extenders it is possible to maintain a strong signal, perfectly balanced, for all the subscribers in the system.

At these locations, the signal is fed into the box, checked for uniformity, amplified, then sent on down the cable, insuring consistent picture quality at all points along the cable.

Benefits Are Many on Cable TV

One of the many benefits subscribers of Hope Community TV receive is round-the-clock service of the cable and cable signal.

Hope Community TV does not service or sell TV sets; its business is to supply master antenna receiving service and high quality TV signals.

However, Hope Community TV services the cable and the signal free up to the television set as long as customers subscribe.

If viewers suspect cable trouble, just call the office and Hope Community TV will schedule an immediate service order. If the cable is not functioning correctly, the cable serviceman will immediately correct the trouble and, if the set seems to be causing the trouble, he will then recommend a call to your serviceman or dealer.

As part of this service, Hope Community TV's engineers continuously monitor all cable signals at various points along the cable to insure constant customer satisfaction.

Subscriber benefits, to mention but a few, include:

- (1) 24-hour engineering service for the cable and the cable up to the TV set.
- (2) Constant signal monitoring.
- (3) Continuous maintenance program.

No Contract Necessary for Cable

David Mooney, general manager of Hope Community TV, said that he has been asked many times about the terms by which viewers subscribe to the cable.

He said, "You do not need to sign a contract for a period of time when you subscribe. All Hope Community TV requires is that the small monthly ser-

Strong, Clear Signal Over TV Cable

Since the advent of the television set itself, all phases of the TV broadcasting industry have experienced dramatic growth. None of these however, has progressed more rapidly than the community antenna television companies.

Community television antenna systems (CATV), or cable television companies as they are often called, grew out of a desire by the public in rural and so-called "fringe" television reception areas to enjoy the advantages of this new medium of mass communications.

As the terms implies, a community antenna is a master television receiving antenna erected and designed to serve a community either in whole or, in part, depending upon the need and demand. More simply, it is much the same as a large antenna which is installed in apartment houses and hotels to accommodate service to individual rooms.

The first of these community antenna television systems sprang up in areas where reception was either non-existent or of unsatisfactory quality due to unfavorable geographical conditions. Poor ground conductivity or seasonal changes in atmospheric conditions also caused poor reception, and thus came the need for the community antenna television system. The master antenna is usually placed on a hill or similar location where near perfect reception can be obtained, and the signal is then relayed to the individual homes in the community via a cable.

The first community antenna system in the country is believed to have been established at Astoria, Oregon in 1949. Although this system was begun on an experimental basis, it paved the way for commercial systems which now number over 100 in the state of Oregon alone.

Nationwide, the figures are even more impressive. Presently, more than 1700 commercial community antenna companies provide master antenna television reception service to approximately 3,000,000 homes, thus making possible either a first, supplementary, or improved television reception service for more than six million people.

The principal problems facing the community antenna systems today are the same ones which they faced at the outset. Regulations and control by local and federal agencies has long been the major problem area for cable television companies. Since community antenna systems operate between states, they classify as interstate commerce and consequently fall under the watchful eye of the Interstate Commerce Commission as well as the Federal Communications Commission.

City councils have likewise had a share in the regulation of community antenna systems. Their regulation, unlike federal regulation, is principally concerned with the rates charged by the cable companies. In a number of cities today, the franchises to the community antenna companies do contain a provision for rate regulation, however, on the whole, the amount of the rate charged to subscribers has very seldom been raised as an issue between the CATV operator and his subscribers.

Charges to subscribers of a community antenna service will vary from system to system, but the basic practice is to require a moderate initial payment at the time of connection and in addition, a monthly charge to cover operating expenses including compensation to the operator. Charges are never related to the programs viewed or available or to the amount of time the subscriber operates his receiver. The monthly charge is a flat rate regardless of the time which the individual set is in operation.

Although technically still in its infancy, cable television systems have made many improvements in service to their subscribers. Among the more exclusive innovations put into use by CATV operators are the "weather channels", such as the one in Hope on Channel 5, which are originated at the cable antenna headquarters and broadcast through the system to the subscribers.

The weather channel is actually nothing more than a television camera mounted on a moveable turret which scans back and forth past a panel of gauges showing temperature, humidity, time, wind velocity, etc. Recorded music is aired as the audio portion, and the channel operates continuously, thereby giving a cable TV subscriber instant, up-to-the-minute information as to weather conditions. Only those persons subscribing to the cable system are able to receive this as in the case of Channel 5 aired here in Hope by Hope Community TV, Inc.

Although some cable companies do originate a weather channel, in no instance can a CATV system contract to bring particular programs to its subscribers, nor can the subscribers order specific programs or channels from the cable company.

Community antenna operators do not alter, delete, or in any manner change the broadcast on the channels which they receive; nor do they permit sponsorship of programs or sell time for commercial announcements as in the case of broadcasters.

Many changes have been made already in the methodology and techniques of community antenna television systems, but many more lie in the fast moving future. It is the aim of all CATV systems to bring to the television viewing public greater variety and a higher quality of broadcasting. The challenge is there.

How to Shop for Color Television Set

When you shop for color TV, you want to choose the set that's right for you and your home. To make the selection easier, here are some guidelines to follow:

First, choose a dealer who stocks a variety of models—so you can compare them. You'll prefer a dealer with a superior set up for the best demonstration of color.

Remember that quality, and not a price tag, should be the criterion for your purchase. With that in mind, begin by comparing screen sizes, quality of picture and sound, features, cabinet styles, etc.

Where will the color set be located in your home? Living room, den, family room? With the answer to this in mind, start deciding on the screen size. For example, there are 18-inch diagonal table models with 180 square inches of picture area. These portable-styled sets are ideal in size and design for the bedroom or den. A caster-equipped cart, optional at extra cost, gives these sets mobility. You can move them around from one viewing location to another while room cleaning and dusting.

Color TV on a 20-inch diagonal screen, 25 per cent bigger than its 18-inch counterpart, is available in table models and in consoles. These sets, with 227 square-inch picture, combine the advantage of big screen viewing in a compact cabinet. Cabinet dimensions are about the same as those of hundreds of thousands of black-and-white TV table models and consoles sold during the past ten years. These are best in a viewing location in the home that is limited in space. Next—offering the biggest picture in color TV today—are the 23-inch diagonal screen sets. These are available in table models, in upright, lo-boy and full base consoles as well as console combinations in a wide selection of furniture styles. As large screen sets, they are designed for homes with an average size to spacious living room. Paradoxically, the "home theater" console combinations are ideal for many small rooms as well as extra large living rooms. In the former, the set is a space-saver since it combines the electronic requirements for TV, stereo and radio in a single cabinet. Also—because of its generous size—the 3-way combination is at home in the oversize living room.

NEWEST FEATURES
With the engineering improvements made recently, you are now getting in color TV what a leading set manufacturer calls "the best buy in home entertainment instruments."

One of the most important is AFC, an automatic fine-tuning and automatic transmission on control. Zenith, for example, developed an AFC control and electronic circuit that fine-tunes a switch on the front of the set. You set AFC once and forget it. It keeps the picture tuned as you change from channel to channel and even automatically perfects fine-tuning on the UHF channels.

Another feature that's a delight is remote control VHF.

TV tuning. This lets you switch from one favorite to other around the dial without moving from your chair. Other functions vary, depending upon the system involved. Like power steering and automatic transmission on your automobile, you wouldn't be without it once you've had it. One of the new features in some of the big-screen color consoles is an engineering design arrangement that puts its convergence controls within reach from the front of the set. These are not user controls but front-mounting simplifies setup and servicing of the TV receiver.

Texans Say Plot Against WR Is Real

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, a political foe of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, said today that he and state police investigated an assassination threat against Rockefeller about a month ago.

Hawkins said a man had told a Conway County resident that $25,000 would be paid for Rockefeller's death and $5,000 for the death of Gene Wirges, a Morrilton newspaperman who has been involved with the governor politically.

Hawkins said the threat was investigated intensively for about two weeks but that nothing was said about it because neither he, the State Police nor Rockefeller wanted to stir anything up.

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Police Chief Melvin James said Thursday that attorney Jack Ray's explanation of an alleged plot to assassinate Arkansas Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller is "all wrong."

Ray, attorney for Zakari Garoglan, 34, a central figure in the investigation into the alleged plot, said Thursday that the report plot has more "political meaning than legal."

"This is all wrong," James said. "It doesn't pertain to politics in any way."

Ray said he had not discussed the alleged plot with Garoglan and that his belief was just an observation.

Rockefeller said Thursday he had received a letter from James and that the matter is in the hands of the State Police and FBI. Rockefeller confirmed reports Wednesday of a planned attempt on his life.

State Police Director Lynn Davis refused to comment on the situation.

James also said Thursday that the plot is "valid, true and authentic" and added that the plot "has substantial underworld backing."

James denied a charge by Ray that his clients' constitutional rights had been violated. James said Garoglan had waived counsel.

James and Detective Loll Bantline hustled Garoglan back into San Angelo Thursday after a disappearance of about 24 hours. There were reports the men could have taken Garoglan to Arkansas for questioning by officers there.

"Why should you be allowed to roam the woods, laughing and scratching, while the rest of us have to work all year and pay income taxes?"

"His life might seem romantic to some people, but he just looks like another dirty old man to me."

"Do you mean to tell me that this little cabin you built doesn't even have indoor plumbing? Why you might as well be a savage."

"I'll bet if you ever sent that bushy beard of yours to the laundry, Silas, they'd find it was full of robin eggs."

"He must be an exhibitionist. Why would a man live all alone in the middle of a forest unless he was a born show-off?"

Community Television Grand Opening to Be Held Here Saturday

Hope Community TV, Inc. will hold its official Grand Opening and Open House Celebration Saturday, December 9, in the Hope Fair Park Coliseum.

Festivities start at 1 p.m. with entertainment being furnished by the Rainbow Melodians band, The Zonks, The Travelers and the Blue Foundations. Night entertainment will be furnished by the "Uptights" Discotheque Group from the University of Arkansas. Refreshments will be furnished by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Texarkana.

At 2 p.m. Saturday there will be a short program and official ribbon cutting ceremony. David Mooney, General Manager of Hope Community TV and Kenneth Polindexter, Public Relations Director for the Company, will make short addresses. The TV Cable System will be turned on at that time.

There will be dozens of prizes at the Coliseum and the general public is invited to register for a Color TV set to be given away at 8 p.m. Also, 2000 Top Value Stamps will be given away hourly between 3:00 and 7 p.m.

Hope Television dealers will have sets hooked up to the cable in the Coliseum to show the public how they can receive nine channels of clear television plus an FM music channel. These nine channels include 3, 6, 12 from Shreveport, 4, 7, 11 from Little Rock, 2 from Conway which is Educational TV, 10 from El Dorado and Channel 5 is local weather 24 hours daily, the time, barometric pressure, wind velocity and a background of FM music.

Hope citizens may sign up for the Cable TV today and tomorrow for a small fee for installation. There is no contract to sign, no obligation and a 14 day free trial to see if you like the cable.

The second section of today's Star is a Special Edition on Cable Television, Hope TV dealers and their products, special TV programs shown in pictures and information on the operations of a cable television system.

Rockefeller to Be Guarded

PALE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Palm Beach County Sheriff W. R. Heidman said Thursday that guards would be present at all times while Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's private plane was here during the National Republican Governor's conference.

Authorities also assigned armed escorts for Rockefeller after being informed of a threat against the governor.

"We'll have marked guards on the plane all the time it's on the ground," Heidman said. He said the armed guard would accompany Rockefeller while he attends conference activities at the convention which began Thursday night.

SS Increase Apparently Is Assured

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Social Security bill containing the biggest cash benefit and tax increases in history—but still falling far short of administration proposals—appears assured of congressional approval.

Senate-House conferees reached final agreement on the bill Thursday night after a marathon session. Sponsors expressed confidence Congress will send it to President Johnson next week.

Major provisions of the bill would:

—Increase basic benefits for the 24 million Americans now on the rolls by at least 13 per cent with a 25 per cent hike for those at the bottom of the scale. The minimum monthly payment would go from $44 to $55. The boosts would be in checks distributed next month.

—Raise the taxable base from $6,600 to $7,800 next year so that the maximum tax for a worker and his employer, now $290.40, would jump to $343.20 in 1968.

—Limit federal grants for the medical program of aiding indigent persons with their health costs in a move to check the

U.S. Backing Defense of Dollar With $475 Million Gold Bullion

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is backing its defense of the dollar with a ready supply of $475 million in gold bullion.

The Treasury Department said Thursday it transferred that much gold from its money stock to a special fund that makes gold sales to foreign governments.

It was the largest single shift of gold in U.S. history, surpassing a $448 million movement in February 1947 to cover the original U.S. subscription to the International Monetary Fund.

The shift also dropped the monetary gold supply to its lowest level in more than 30 years.

The monetary gold stock now stands at $12,434 billion, the lowest since the $12,433 billion on July 28, 1937, after undergoing the largest weekly drop on record.

The move of $475 million in gold to the Exchange Stabilization Fund, as the special account is called, underscores U.S. determination to defend the dollar internationally from speculative attack.

President Johnson said earlier this week the attack had been "decisively repelled" at a relatively small cost in U.S. reserves.

Total U.S. reserves, including gold, convertible foreign currencies and the U.S. reserve position in the IMF, were near $15 billion at the end of October.

U.S. policy, restated immediately after devaluation of the pound, is to buy and sell gold at $35 an ounce. Any increase in price would represent devaluation of the dollar.

To help keep the price at $35, the United States covers 59 per cent of all sales on the London gold market as part of a pool of seven nations.

The exact volume of London sales during the gold rush has never been revealed but Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler said U.S. gold losses would be "substantially high."

Reveals Cong Wanted a UN Envoy

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Viet Cong sent word to the U.N. secretariat this fall that it wanted to station representatives in New York for a year or two to "work principally at the United Nations" and also give newspaper interviews, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg told newsmen Thursday night.

Goldberg said the Viet Cong didn't pursue the subject after the United States said they would be let in only if they came on official U.N. business and were invited by the Security Council or the General Assembly.

Goldberg told a news conference Secretary-General U Thant late in September sent him an inquiry received from the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, through "an unnamed intermediary."

He said the Viet Cong wanted to know "whether the United States would be agreeable to having two or three NLF representatives come to New York" and "would grant visas for this purpose."

Goldberg said after consulting Washington, he asked the U.N. secretariat to find out who the NLF representatives were, what kind of passports they would have, what kind of visas they wanted, what the purpose of their visit would be and whether talks with the U.S. government

Lodge Is Restrained by Order

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal Judge Gordon Young issued a temporary restraining order Thursday against Rose City Lodge 2046 of the Borthershood of Railway, Airline and Steamship Clerks and ordered members of the union to return to work at the Railway Express Agency.

The strike was called late Wednesday night and the firm was virtually shut down in Little Rock and other points in Arkansas.

Company officials asked for the restraining order.

Young said the union would be asked to show cause at a hearing Dec. 13 why he should not issue an injunction.

Harry E. Cash, chairman of the union, said the employees would honor the restraining order. He said the cause of the strike was the REA's decision Nov. 17 to route its shipments from Little Rock to points in the southern part of the state by Missouri Pacific Motor Freight Lines. He contended that the REA's drivers could have handled the business.

Company officials asked for the restraining order.

Young said the union would be asked to show cause at a hearing Dec. 13 why he should not issue an injunction.

Harry E. Cash, chairman of the union, said the employees would honor the restraining order. He said the cause of the strike was the REA's decision Nov. 17 to route its shipments from Little Rock to points in the southern part of the state by Missouri Pacific Motor Freight Lines. He contended that the REA's drivers could have handled the business.

The strike was called late Wednesday night and the firm was virtually shut down in Little Rock and other points in Arkansas.

Officers Agree They Have to Have Help in Solving Crimes

AP News Digest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sebastian County Sheriff Fred Hayes, one of many law officers who agreed Thursday that State Police Director Lynn A. Davis had the right to protect an informant, says authorities have to have help in solving crimes.

"On television, they might smell it out and solve the crime, but out here in real life we've got to have help," Hayes said. "In my own experience, I find that a officer, particularly a detective, is only as good as his information."

He called informants "one of the greatest weapons we have in fighting crime."

Hot Spring County Sheriff Orville Allen of Malvern said he recently refused to divulge the name of an informant in Circuit Court and that his stand was upheld by the judge.

"If we were ever forced to reveal our confidential sources of information, we would cease to get any information," Allen said.

Jackson County Sheriff Ralph Henderson said he had used informants' information several times.

"If you twist my arm off, I wouldn't tell you who they were," Henderson said.

Newport Police Chief Tom Straus said effective law enforcement would be prevented if officers were forced to divulge the identification of their informants.

Police Chief Bill Franks of Jonesboro said Capt. Vernon Walker, head of the criminal investigation division of the Jonesboro police, had solved several robberies and burglaries because of confidential information.

Franks said Circuit Judge John Mosby of Lepanto had ruled that Walker did not have to identify his informant in a case involving the use of marijuana at Arkansas State University.

Municipal Judge Lawson Cloninger of Fort Smith said that as a general rule he would not like to see officers required to identify their informants.

Cloninger said police would be "dead as far as gathering information is concerned" without informants.

Circuit Judge Paul Wolfe of Fort Smith said he had been on the bench 13 years and never required an officer to reveal the identity of an informant.

"By the very nature of the cases, the informant does not want to be known," he said. "It would be dangerous to him and bring reprisal. Officers get a great deal of information from informants right here in Fort Smith and it helps solve many crimes."

Fulbright said the United States seeks in Vietnam to prove that wars of national liberation cannot succeed and to demonstrate America's willingness and ability to save beleaguered governments from Communist insurgents.

159 Dead Left Behind by Viet Cong

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen riding helicopter gunships today pursued a battered Communist battalion that left a fourth of its fighters dead on the sparse coastal dunes of Binh Dinh Province.

American officers said the battalion of 600 North Vietnamese regulars had lost 159 dead at the last count, which did not cover spirited fighting in the last 24 hours. Korean troops just to the south reported killing another 61 Reds.

The North Vietnamese were being pursued along the coast by about 300 men from the 1st Air Cavalry Division. Another two companies with an equal number of South Vietnamese troops were blocking to prevent the Communists from trying to push inland toward better cover.

It was the heaviest fighting in Binh Dinh in three months. The U.S. Command also reported action on other old battlefields—renewed shelling at Con Thien, a night-long guerrilla attack in the Mekong Delta and another Red attack—which cost the Communists 45 dead—at the desolate town of Bo Duc, near the Cambodian border where much recent fighting has flared.

Binh Dinh, however, was the most important spot for Allied commanders, particularly because it had been quiet for so long and the Red force there—the veteran 22nd Regiment of the 3rd North Vietnamese Division—had shown little recent willingness to do battle.

The action started Wednesday when a helicopter patrol spotted the Reds, and two Air Cavalry companies landed in battle or flushed them out. By Thursday night the North Vietnamese had been pushed from the concealed bunkers and fortifications that made up their hidden base, but the running battle continued.

Air Strikes raked the enemy during the day Thursday and Friday, and flameships stuck overhead in the hours of darkness.

As night fell Friday, American officers said the cavalrymen were still in pursuit. Others policed the battlefield, and U.S. officers said the enemy death toll would certainly rise.

U.S. spokesmen said no American casualty figures would be revealed until the action was broken off.

The battle is close to main National Route 1 along the coast and in an area under undisputed Red control for years, until the big U.S. sweeps of the past 12 months.

Says World Believes U.S. Betrayed Past

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of the world and an increasing number of U.S. citizens have "a feeling that America has betrayed its own past and its own promise" in its Vietnam actions, Sen. J. W. Fulbright said today.

"We are in this respect a disappointment to the world but, far more important than that, a disappointment to ourselves," he said.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and long a leading congressional voice of Vietnam dissent, commented in a sharp and often bitter attack on war policies.

His appraisal was prepared for Senate delivery.

In another Senate speech, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a member of Fulbright's committee, argued that war critics must realize North Vietnam is encouraged by "every act of dissent in this country."

The critics, Dodd said, should not pretend "there is no danger in unrestrained public discussion."

They Will Handle Cable

DAVID MOONEY

KENNETH P. PONDER

Pictured above are the men who will be charged with the responsibility of operating and maintaining the new Cable TV system which will begin operation December 9 in Hope.

These men have spent a considerable amount of time in Hope during the last few weeks getting the system ready for the grand opening which is to be held at the Hope Fair Park Coliseum December 9.

David P. Mooney, General Manager, is a native of Hot Springs, Ark. His mother, Mrs. Alden P. Mooney, has held the position of General Manager of The Sentinel-Record and The Hot Springs News for many years. He has worked with the Palmer organization since 1963. He is currently Vice President and General Manager of the Community Antenna Television operations serving Camden and Prescott, Ark.

Mooney is married to the former Kathleen C. McNeil of Stuttgart, Arkansas. They have two daughters — Jennifer, age five, and Jillana, age three and a half.

Kenneth W. Ponder, Public Relations Director and Sales Manager, is a resident of Osceola, Ark., where he lives with his parents.

Ponder joined the company in March of this year, when he was hired to succeed the late W. A. (Bill) Groves.

He has over 12 years in the sales field, gaining experience from a family-owned general merchandise firm at Osceola for many years.

He is the grandson of the late C. F. Palmer, founder of the Palm-Media Group, which is comprised of nine daily newspapers located in Arkansas and Texas; and three radio stations along with television station KTAI, Channel 6, Shreveport.

Mooney attended the University of Oklahoma where he obtained his B.S. degree in Business and in the newspaper field. He is a former advertising manager of The Camden News, and has held editorial positions with The News, the Arkansas Democrat at Little Rock, the Pine Bluff Commercial, and the Fordyce News-Advocate.

Ponder was graduated from Stephens High School and has taken college courses in commercial art and real estate.

Hookup for Hope Very Simple

Connecting Cable TV to the homes in Hope is relatively simple. The normal home installation takes about an hour to complete and in most cases, the hook-up can be made where and how subscribers want it.

Connection involves inserting a "tap box" into the cable on the utility pole outside the subscriber's home. This "tap box" is the means by which the signal is taken from the main cable. Once the tap is made, a small one-quarter inch cable is run to the home.

This cable may be taken through the wall, through the floor, under the eaves, or most anywhere.

Inside the house the small cable is routed to the TV set, and a small matching device is inserted in the cable to match the cable to the set.

Then the cable is connected to the antenna terminals on the set just as the old outside antenna was connected.

Hope Community TV's round-the-clock service of the cable and cable signal is part of the many benefits available

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In "Dear Friends" Wednesday night, playwright Reginald Rose had some adult, incisive observations about people and marriage. As one of the CBS "Playhouse" series, it glittered with excellent performances by an able cast.

For part of the same period, Jack Paar on NBC was presiding over an extremely funny, ingenious hour consisting primarily of photogenic mishaps.

The conflict between two superior programs in very different moods was in deed unfortunate.

"Dear Friends," a two-hour program, centered on a gathering of four married couples, close friends for years, who were ostensibly gathering to try to bring together one pair who had decided to separate.

At the beginning, it appeared that three couples had fine, substantial marriages, but as the liquor flowed and the talk became more emotional and frank, the slim facades crumbled.

Rose told the real stories behind the masks by using a flashback method. He started with the separated couple, played with dignity by Hope Lange and James Daly. Their problem after 15 years of marriage and two children, was quite simply that, as the husband put it, "we don't interest each other any more, we're too . . . familiar, I guess."

Their friends, while still together, had much worse problems.

One wife was insanely jealous of her husband—and with good reason, it turned out. Another couple was concealing, ashamed, the fact that they just didn't want children, and preferred to have the world think they could not have them. A third marriage was a sham because the wife had once been faithless and her husband knew it.

Pernell Roberts and Rosemary Harris were fine as the boorish philandering husband and his tense wife, David Wayne and Anne Jackson played the childless couple convincingly. Eli Wallace and Patricia Barry were outstanding as the husband whose betrayal still rankled and his troubled wife.

The stripping away of pretense and facing some truths seemed to have a healing effect. At the end there seemed to be some hope for the future of all four couples. It made interesting viewing.

Jack Paar patched together an enormous number of bits from old news reels and some television films that never made the small screens, added some appropriate background music and a droll commentary. It was a most amusing hour.

One section was devoted to falls. Soupy Sales once tried to define humor by saying that when somebody falls down and doesn't get up, it's not funny, but when somebody falls down and does get up, it's funny. All of Paar's fallers got up and it was funny, indeed.

Another sequence, culled from television archives, showed frustrated broadcasters trying to read their reports on assorted scenes of action but being constantly interrupted by people walking in front of the camera. There was also the hilarious newsreel showing Mrs. Harry S. Truman vainly attempting to smash a bottle of champagne over the bow of a ship.

The research for the show must have been enormous, but the selections were great and the pace was good.

Conflicts like Wednesday night's are not often found, but they do seem unnecessary. The president of ABC, Thomas Moore once suggested a central registry for special programs to avoid conflicts. It might be well to revive the idea.

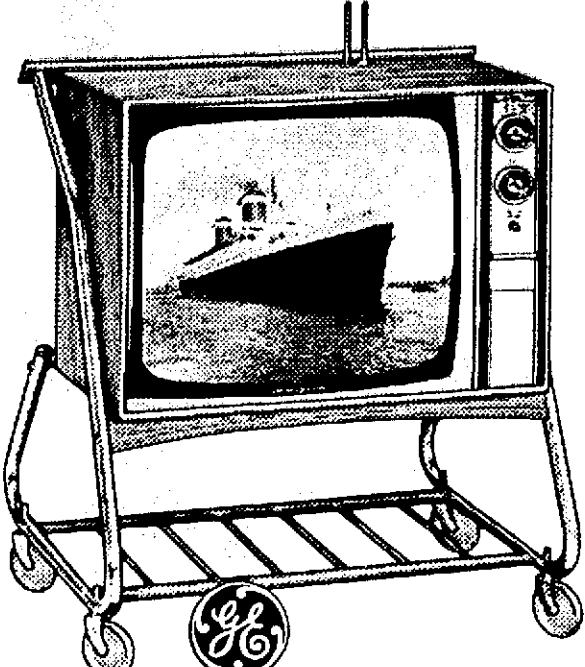

regular that night. It's a kind of challenge and occasionally you have to accept them. There won't be many more—I'm about to quit.

"I'm going to be doing my first Public Broadcasting Laboratory show soon. It will probably be with John Lindsay or Senator Dirksen. What kind of show will it be? Disastrous. I'm doing the PBL shows because I believe in it. I'm not getting nearly the money I usually get. But I think we need another network." "Because I'm going to do a political interview, it doesn't mean I'm as interested in politics as I was 20 years ago. All I listen to that. You only hear they have done is change the singing like that in Rheims clowns.

As He Makes His Marx

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Groucho Marx walked across the bare floor of the rehearsal hall, sat down and said, "If you have anything worthwhile to say, you'd better say it now because in another three minutes I'll be back up there."

It was suggested that, during the 180 seconds available before he went back to rehearsing "A Taste of Funny," to be seen on NBC-TV on The Kraft Music Hall on Dec. 13, he might be the one to say something worth-while. He said:

"This is an arduous job. Do you realize that we are doing in six days what Broadway takes three months to do? Why did I take the job? A kind of lunacy. The moon was ir-

Cable TV Cannot Interfere

David P. Mooney, general manager of Hope Community TV, said that he is always asked as a first question, "Can Cable TV interfere with the reception that viewers are receiving on normal home antennas?"

"No," Mooney said, "I want to stress that Hope Community TV and its equipment can in no way interfere with reception that is now received from rooftop antennas."

Herbert Biddle, Hope Community TV's chief technician, puts it this way: "All the cable and amplifiers and other equipment are fully shielded in accordance with rigid FCC regulations to prevent any form of interference."

Hope Community TV does not transmit any signals, it only receives and sends them through a cable to the user's home. The only difference is that Cable TV amplifies and filters the system to make sure that each subscriber has clear pictures of uniform quality on all channels.

The tower has caused quite a bit of comment regarding interference also. Mooney said that the tower here in Hope is identical to rooftop antennas of any receiving system except that it is higher and uses specially designed antennas. Other than these two factors, the tower is no different from home systems.

Mooney went on to say that there is no way possible for the system or tower to interfere with any communications media.

Utility Poles Play Part in Community TV

For the past several weeks residents of Hope have seen scenes of men on poles all over the city. It may seem hard to believe that an ordinary utility pole could be so important in the construction of a Cable TV system. But Hope Community TV, like other public utilities, depends on poles to route their service to residences and businesses within the community.

Each pole plays a specific role in routing the cable through the city. Our engineers know just about every pole in the City of Hope. During the past months, they have paid a personal visit to these poles to determine the routing of the signal cable which will bring Cable TV to your home.

Prior to the time that the cable installers began their part of the job, detailed maps showing the exact location of each and every pole were prepared. Much information had to be gathered regarding the exact height of the cable above the ground and the space required for attaching the equipment to the utility pole.

Hope Community TV engineers have walked and ridden the cable routes throughout the city many times.

Nothing to Do With Pay Television

Although both pay TV and Cable TV use coaxial cable to route signals to homes, this is where the similarity stops.

In pay TV, the subscriber pays for specific programs on a per-program basis. The only way to see specific and special programs is by paying for each program viewed.

Hope Community TV's Cable TV is NOT pay TV. Kenneth Poindexter, public relations director of the cable company, explained that, as a subscriber to Hope Community TV, one small monthly service charge is made for the entire service from the master receiving antenna. For this charge, viewers have independent selection of the entire service as if they had Hope Community TV's 500-foot tower in their own back yard.

A small cable is attached to the back of your TV set and you select what you want to watch and hear from a selection of 8 TV channels and a full band of FM radio stations.

Hope Community TV is not involved in the programs put on by the TV stations or by the network. In other words, Hope Community TV's business is that of providing a master antenna receiving service, not a program service.

Color TV Hits Stride on Mass Market

Considering the awesome complexity of the product, the color television set generally has compiled an enviable service record over the past 4 to 5 years, during which time it became a mass market item.

Still, there have been and continue to be those days when some set owners are forced to part company with this popular home companion while the service technician hauls it off to the shop for repair.

Well, better days are coming. There is a series of 1968 models on the market with a solid state, all-transistor chassis built in a modular or "building block" manner where the hundreds of components are grouped or segmented into 10 sections or modules. With these sets, developed by Motorola, the technician in many instances can isolate a difficult to one of the 10 modules in relatively fast fashion, pull out the suspect module, plug in a replacement module and turn on the set. The module removed from the set can then be taken back to the shop where the problem can be isolated to a particular component without inconveniencing the customer, whose set has quickly been placed back into operation.

Congratulations "good viewing in view" on HOPE COMMUNITY TV inc.

There's "good viewing" in view with Hope Community TV, Incorporated, and we congratulate Mr. David Mooney and the people of Hope on this progress.

Your "good viewing" will include the many fine programs from KRAL-TV, Channel 6, and the NBC Television Network. We want to take this opportunity to call your attention to our worldwide coverage of news, along with Radar Weather and Sports, on Newscope - twice daily - at 6:00 and 10:00. Also, enjoy country-western gospel music at its best on "TV Partyline", weekdays at noon.

Because we KNOW that we DO have "GOOD VIEWING", please consider this your invitation to...

THE MANY SPLENDORS OF TELEVISION VIEWING ON CABLE T.V.!

- ★ Nine Channels of television viewing with peace of mind, no tall and expensive mast on top of your home to worry you when those wild winds blow.
- ★ Save money too! High, expensive antennas are a thing of the past when you are on the cable.
- ★ Every television station produces independent programs of its own choosing or making, even if affiliated on the same network with other stations.
- ★ When you are on Cable T.V. the choice is yours of watching whatever you want to view ... not from just two stations, but on 9 different channels.
- ★ Think of it ... Nine Channels (8 T.V. Stations, plus FM music and local Hope Weather on Channel 5) is more television than you can watch in the three largest cities in the United States!
